About Eton International School

SECTION 1: HISTORY OF ETON INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

Molding children to become the leaders of the next generation is always and has been the mission of Eton International School Founder and President Jacqueline Marzan-Tolentino. She wanted to build a school without borders where the best and brightest in their country can learn, while celebrating their differences and honoring their uniqueness without limitations. She wanted to nurture global leaders using the 21st century teaching approaches that she learned when she studied several programs that focused on brain development and learning at Harvard Graduate School of Education and Bank Street College. She dedicated her life in empowering kids by studying different teaching and learning styles in the US, UK, and Asia.

In 2004, Eton International School was born and was first known as “ Eton School” located inside a mall. It provided top quality Preschool education with Mandarin and Nihongo to families living nearby Robinson’s Manila in condominiums and business establishments. Initially, it started as a playschool, adjunct only to the founder’s Computer Institute to provide additional service to its existing corporate clientele. It started with the founding directress as the teacher with two (2) students and two (2) employees until it grew within the same year to twenty-five (25) preschoolers including foreigners in the area. The school focused on its mission to make international education accessible to all. It offered an alternative to traditional education by teaching global educational programs like Multiple Intelligence from her mentors Dr. Howard Gardner of Harvard and Learning Styles from Dr. Rita Dunn of St. John University, USA.

In 2005, the school was granted a permit from the Department of Education to operate as an international school that provided for the long-term needs of the children of expatriates and local families in Manila. It finally became known as “Eton International School”, a non-stock, nonprofit entity that distinguished itself from other traditional schools by offering the latest scientific, business and technological education programs in the country that gave their students competitive edge locally and internationally. By 2006, it was one of the biggest mall based international preschool in Manila, made popular with its global academic programs, serving 75 families catering to multiple nationalities. It produced a child prodigy in the field of arts, he became the youngest painter who exhibited his works in Singapore and sold it for $50,000.

By 2007, the school inaugurated its first campus in the heart of Manila, the capital of the Philippines, and decided to open its Grade School level serving its pioneer 100 students consisting of children of diplomats, businessmen and government officials in the area. Eton International School used two-year advanced academic programs than local schools and opened with 17 learning centers offering four levels of preschool from nursery to preparatory until grade three. They also launched their first International School Exchange program in Singapore for the growth of their teachers and students. Lastly, the founder chose Manila because no international school was serving the area; most of them were located in Makati and Taguig. Malate became its new home and it became part of the growing list of top schools in Manila. Malate is part of the old world charm; the neighborhood is rich in history, during the Spanish period, and Malate church had a cult following among affluent families praying to have children. When the Americans came, urban planners envisioned the development of Malate as the newest and trendiest exclusive residential area especially with Manila Bay for American families. American expatriates and some of the Old Spanish mestizo families still populated the district in modern high-rise apartments, condominiums and bungalows and the school still accommodates them until now.

Eton has always been the forefront of innovation in Education. In 2008, the school became the first international school that produced 10 International Topnotchers in English, Math and Science. Eton Grade 1 students topped the International Benchmark Test (IBT) for Grade 3 Math, Science and English held by the Center of Education Management Inc. (CEM). The students were featured in different newspapers. It was the first time that Filipinos became no. 1 in Math beating Singapore, Australia and USA. The school received a commendation from Department of Education (DepEd) for this momentous feat.

By 2009, Eton became an accredited International Learning Styles School in the Philippines and the founder was bestowed the privileged of becoming an International Board member of the prestigious International Network of Learning Styles under the tutelage of Dr. Rita Dunn and Susan Rundle. This year became pivotal as the school became known as the home of Asia's top-notch in Math, Science and English as it repeated the same feat. It also piloted Universal Design in Learning that ensured "No child should be left behind." Eton launched its own workbooks and opened doors for scholarships for the best and brightest students in the field of Arts, Science and Math.

By 2010, the school produced its first batch of graduates in the elementary level. These students were part of the pioneer preschool batch that became consistent topnotchers in International Examinations. They are now studying in different parts of the world. During that time, students who transferred to different schools locally and internationally were accelerated in their respective different schools. The global training paid off as they experienced multiple International School trainings, exposure and immersion in Hongkong, China, and Japan.

In 2012, Eton International School finally decided to open its doors to middle school students. It also became the first 3D School in the Philippines where children can learn Math and Science in an exciting way. The goal was to enhance every child's learning retention by 35%. It also opened its second campus in Quezon City with 25 students.

By 2013, Eton prepared for the K to 12 Program in preparation for the Asean Integration in 2015. The school became part of a bigger International network of Fieldwork and adopted their International Primary Curriculum and International Middle Year Curriculum used in 150 countries and 1000 schools worldwide. They also piloted the one-tablet-one-child program for preschool to middle school using Wiz learn technologies from Singapore. More so, the school also won the overall champion in Aeronautics Competition in Shanghai, China.

In 2014, Eton started to offer the full middle school and junior. high school program by adding the new three-storey school building with its own gymnasium. Every classroom was equipped with cameras, latest teaching technologies like LCD, smart boards and tablets all for the 21st century teaching and learning. Eton was envisioned to become the School of the Future. It hosted the launching of IPC and IMYC of United Kingdom in the Philippines.

In 2015, it celebrated its 11th year of meaningful existence with noteworthy accomplishments. The first batch of high school graduates broke local and international records in the field of Science scoring 99+ Math 99+ and English 99+. It also produced students who became topnotchers in their chosen field like Physics, Medicine and Technology. The gradeschool students also honed their skills in Robotics to represent the country in international competitions and lastly it celebrated the win in of their gradeschool student who became the top artist who got five (5) division championships in the world championship in performing arts in USA.

Eton came from being a “School without Borders” to “The School of the Future” and now a certified “International School of Science, Business Technology and Arts.” The school is preparing to play a big part in the Asean integration by preparing its students to be 21st century learners who are innovators, entrepreneurs and global leaders.

Curriculum

SECTION 1: OUR CURRICULUM

International Primary Curriculum

The IPC is the cornerstone of our learner-focused school. It provides 5 to 12 year-old students with great excitement, challenge, and diversity within a structured and supportive framework.

It is a world class, comprehensive and practical curriculum, delivering academic, personal, and international knowledge, skills and understanding.

The IPC is a learner- focused curriculum, designed to help children learn and enjoy what they learn. To be learner-focused means that we have to be assessment and evaluation-focused, too. Assessment and evaluation are simply the ways in which we find out whether learning has taken place or not and how to plan the next steps.

International Middle Years Curriculum

The IMYC is a challenging, engaging international-minded, concept-focused curriculum designed specifically for the unique learning needs of 11 to 14 year-old students

The IMYC helps students to:

1. Make meaning of their learning by:

- Linking all subjects/learning to a conceptual theme
- Responding to the specific developmental needs of 11 to 14 year-old students
- Working towards understanding through a personal and global perspective

2. Connect learning by:

- Linking all subjects through the agreed big idea
- Preparing students for the next stage of learning
- Being part of a worldwide community to share learning experiences, best practices, ideas, and resources.

3. Develop minds by:

- Delivering rigorous and transformational knowledge, skills and understanding
- Creating a challenging, student-led learning environment
- Providing assessment of learning for students and support for teachers

4. Eton International Curriculum

The school implements K-12 curriculum that is Singapore and UK-based and which focuses in Science and Technology, English, Arts, and Math.

ETON CORE PROGRAM

Science, Arts and Business Technology

This is ETON's unique academic program that is geared towards the holistic development of our students that will prepare them to lead their future careers and "conquer" their respective worlds. Through this program, our students become creative, analytic, sensitive and competitive. This program was conceived by Eton because this offers rich and varied career pathways that will help our students create a niche with lasting impact on their profession, family, community, society and the world at large.

Science

The Science Program is designed to prepare students to develop their scientific attitudes and inquiry skills. Learning science is not confined with content only. It grows from one simple system to various discoveries such as robotics and programming. Such kind of fascination to scientific discoveries and verifications are boosted by practical activities that are given to the students to make their lessons exciting and thought-provoking. Children are encouraged to work like scientists as they investigate and explore their physical surroundings. Their first-hand experiences will help them to find answers to problems by exploring their own environment. The program implements higher cognitive skills to enable them to acquire inquiry and investigative skills. The 5E's (Engage, Explore, Explain, Elaborate and Evaluate) of learning is used in Science in the presentation and conduct of lessons. The school molds the students to be economic and technological leader of the global marketplace of the 21st century.

A.R.T.S. (Arts, Real-Life Skills, Tech Voc and Sports)

Eton nurtures the creativity and imagination of its students beginning at the pre-school level. The creative pursuits of the students are constantly being encouraged. Our art classes include painting, paper arts and craft, playing musical instruments, photography, dance, song and the like. ARTICLE VI

Student Discipline

SECTION 1: PHILOSOPHY STATEMENT ON DISCIPLINE

Discipline is concerned with the development of internal mechanisms that enable individuals to control themselves; thus, there is the need for agreed boundaries of attitude and behavior. Firm, fair and just discipline is the foundation of an effective and efficient institution. These philosophy and objectives for students can be achieved only if they manifest obedience to the rules of orderly conduct, exercise self-control, show consideration for the rights of others, and be responsible for their actions. Development of self-discipline is, hopefully, the result of the school discipline system.

Discipline Council

Persons in Authority:

Principal

The Principal articulates the school's mission, goals and objectives, and sees to it that decisions, policies and programs are aligned with the school's philosophy of education and vision-mission statement. The Principal ensures the implementation of policies and procedures through proper communication.

Discipline Board

The Discipline Board is an ad hoc fact-finding body created to review and clarify the recommendation and decision on any offenses. It shall be composed of five members from the administration, faculty, and parents appointed by the Principal. It submits its findings and recommendations to the Principal who makes the final decision.

Prefect of Discipline

Prefect of Discipline assists the Principal in enforcing the rules and regulations of the school. He ensures order and discipline in their areas of responsibility. They conduct an inquiry on discipline concerns and make recommendations to the Principal. He is authorized to issue passes, Student Department Reports and Violation Reports and confiscate prohibited items.

Guidance Counselor

School guidance counselors collaborate with all members of the school community to develop and deliver a data-driven program that supports every student's academic, career and personal/social development.

Teachers and Other Employees

All teachers, school officials, security personnel and other employees, are persons in authority, and are duty-bound to help enforce school policies and rules of discipline.

Student Leaders

All officers of the classes and organizations are considered persons in authority by the school. They are expected to be models in deportment for other students to emulate, and to help enforce school policies and rules. Students are expected to follow their legitimate orders and instructions.

If an officer does not behave or does not do what is expected of him/her, he/she shall be reprimanded and be removed from his/her office for major offenses.

Guidance Curriculum

The purpose of a comprehensive developmental guidance and counseling program in a school setting is to promote and enhance the learning process. To that end, a comprehensive developmental guidance and counseling program facilitates student development in three broad areas: LEARNING TO LIVE (Personal/Social Development), LEARNING TO LEARN (Academic Development) LEARNING TO WORK (Career Development).
